ELEVATING OUR TRADITION OF CARE

Poydras Home. Reimagined.

For over 200 years, Poydras Home has been synonymous with the best service and care, and we owe much of that success to our dedication to continually learning and improving our practices to best serve our residents. In 2021, we are proud to announce we'll be elevating that tradition of care to an even higher level. Poydras Home Reimagined, an expansion and transformation of our campus and care model, represents the highest quality of life for our residents by incorporating best practices gleaned from extensive research over the past several years.

Spacious living, open floor plans, and an amenities-packed Center for Healthy Living.

TRADITION MEETS PROGRESS

We are enormously pleased to have secured the architecture firm of Eskew, Dumez, and Ripple to oversee the Poydras Home Reimagined project. Their sterling work and deep understanding of New Orleans' culture and heritage will ensure the structural changes to Poydras Home will be both progressive and rooted in our aesthetic traditions.

HOMES + LIVING

Soon, the Poydras Home campus will feature two new buildings with three homes each, in which residents will have even more personalized care and interaction while experiencing the same personal freedoms they already know. Homes will feature open floor plans with spacious living rooms including comfortable seating and fireplaces, dining rooms and state-of-the-art kitchens where residents can participate in meal preparation if they wish, private bathrooms, and increased access to our beautiful grounds via balconies and patios. Poydras Home's Historic House will be rebuilt as the Center for Healthy Living, where residents will enjoy a yoga studio, therapy gym, library, meditative space, expanded salon and spa, and a multipurpose space for additional programming and education.

BENEFITS

One of the many benefits of our expanded care approach (based on The Green House Project model), is that a smaller number of residents share each house and each house has a dedicated Care Partner who knows not only each senior's health needs and concerns but is highly trained to assist with all manner of tasks, helping to make each day meaningful and bright. This close-knit, smaller community setup within the larger community has resulted in less COVID exposure and infection in The Green House Project facilities across the nation. Though we had already
